

Accreditation of ECTS points towards study programs of PHZH and ZHdK

PHZH

Credits

Our courses are designed and run on the basis of ECTS principles. All our language courses contain assessments as a means of evaluating course participants' learning progress. ECTS credits are only awarded if there has been a formal assessment of a course participant's performance.

ECTS credits are awarded only once for any given course. Participants can only repeat a course if they have previously failed to meet the requirements of a given course or if they have previously failed a course.

ECTS points are only awarded to participants who demonstrate progress in their learning in connection with a course and whose progress has been assessed as part of the course.

Recognition and accreditation

The Language Center issues Certificates of Achievement to course participants who have successfully completed a course in modern languages. Certificates can be used for accreditation purposes at participants' home universities, where relevant.

ZHdK

Credits

Our courses are designed and run on the basis of ECTS principles. All our language courses contain assessments as a means of evaluating course participants' learning progress. ECTS credits are only awarded if there has been a formal assessment of a course participant's performance.

ECTS credits are awarded only once for any given course. Participants can only repeat a course if they have previously failed to meet the requirements of a given course or if they have previously failed a course.

ECTS points are only awarded to participants who demonstrate progress in their learning in connection with a course and whose progress has been assessed as part of the course.

Recognition and accreditation

The Language Center issues Certificates of Achievement to course participants who have successfully completed a course in modern languages.

ECTS points for German courses are accredited to incoming exchange students and are transferred to their transcript of records.