

Tandem-Contract

between (full name) Mother tongue and (full name) Mother tongue valid from

The contractual partners hereby undertake to follow the key rules outlined below to support each other in learning the target languages, i.e their partner's mother tongue.

- Tandem partners should meet regularly and spend exactly the same amount of time on each language, as noted below:

Table with 2 columns: Weekday and Time. Rows for Language A, Language B, and Planned final Tandem partnership meeting.

The times stipulated are binding for both partners and should be spent entirely for learning in the Tandem.

- The language of instruction is normally the target language. - Subjects covered and the approach to learning are decided by the learners, who are themselves responsible for outlining their own needs.

Each learner makes every effort to meet these needs.

Difficulties in defining and fulfilling learning needs or in the choice of approaches to learning should be discussed together in the Tandem. If necessary the help of a Tandem advisor can be requested.
